—DID YOU KNOW—

That Denver's Louie Wright returned blocked field goal attempts for touchdowns on consecutive plays in overtime against the San Diego Chargers on November 17? Rulon Jones blocked Bob Thomas' first field goal try and Wright had a 60-yard runback called back because of a timeout just before the play. Dennis Smith then blocked Thomas' next attempt, with Wright returning it for the winning points in the Broncos' 30-24 victory. It was Smith's second block of the game.

—DID YOU KNOW—

That when Washington's George Rogers (104 yards) and John Riggins (103) each rushed for more than 100 yards in the Redskins' 27-10 triumph over St. Louis on October 7, it marked the first time in the club's 54-year history that two runners had hit the 100-yard plateau in the same game? Ironically, Keith Griffin (164) and Rogers (124) accomplished the feat again four weeks later against Atlanta.
